Annual Blood Drive Participation

Over 300 Alro employees from 39 locations took part in our Annual Blood Drive across the country. That represents enough blood donated to help almost 900 patients in need! Thank you to the local organizations that brought their mobile units and teams, and to the Alro employees for their generosity.

6150 and 52100 Alloy Steel Rounds

Alro Steel stocks rounds in 6150 HRA (hot rolled annealed) and 52100 SPH ANN AQ/BQ (spheroidized and annealed, aircraft quality/bearing quality).

6150 HRA is stocked in 1"- 13" rounds. This chromium-vanadium alloy is a high carbon, low alloy steel with excellent shock resistance, toughness, and abrasion resistance. It's easily heat treated and has low distortion properties. Applications include arbors, machinery parts, gears, shafts, high strength studs and spindles.

6150 Alloy Rounds

52100 SPH ANN AQ/BQ (spheroidized and annealed, aircraft quality/bearing quality) is stocked in 1" - 12" rounds. 52100 is a moderately deep hardening alloy with high resistance to wear, medium toughness, and low resistance to softening at high temperatures. It is known for its workability and can be forge-welded to other steels. It is often called ball bearing steel because it was originally developed for high pressure applications in ball and roller bearings.

Acetal Performance Plastic Shapes

Alro Plastics offers both porosity free copolymer and homopolymer (Delrin®) when higher mechanical properties are preferred. Both are FDA compliant and stocked in natural and black as well as premium filled grades.

Acetal provides high strength and stiffness coupled with enhanced dimensional stability and ease of machining. It is characterized by a low coefficient of friction and good wear properties especially in wet environments. Alro Plastics maintains a large inventory with next-day shipment from stock, enhanced cutting services and value-added processing.
